

Hug Mother Nature today!

It's a sad truth that 50% of all books printed are returned unsold to be used in road fill or ground into pulp. Think of all the wasted energy and natural resources that represents. Do you really want to add to the problems of deforestation and pollution? What about the problems of landfill space? What can be done?

Welcome to the 21st Century! With e-books loaded on a reader or PDA; there is no paper needed to enjoy a classic – or a new favorite author! Many readers are backlit and allow you to choose larger font for your reading comfort. Try doing that with a paper book. E-books don't wear out like a paper book. Read your favorites again and again without the binding breaking or the pages tearing. Read in the rain without fear of the pages sticking together. There are so many useful features in e-books!

The good old days just got a whole lot better. Now, your reading for a month or more fits in the palm of your hand – with no paper involved. Want to learn more about e-books?

For more information about e-books, visit
<http://www.epicauthors.org/>